Title: An adventurous planting with dad

Page 1: On the beautiful island of Mauritius, there lived a little boy named Riyansh and his father, farmer Mukesh.

Page 2: Their farm was as colourful as the island itself.

Page 3: One Sunday morning, Riyansh woke early and saw the golden sun rising over the crystal-clean ocean.

Page 4: "Dad can I help you on the farm today". He asked with excitement.

Page 5: With a big smile, farmer Mukesh nodded and said "Of course my little helper".

Page 6: They walked through fields of sugarcane swaying in the breeze.

Page 8: Riyansh said Farmer Mukesh we're going to plant some seeds to grow our vegetables.

Page 9: They dug the small holes and placed seeds carefully in the ground.

Page 10: Colourful birds sang sweet melodies as they worked, and curious gecko watched from a nearby tree.

Page 12: "Riyansh", said farmer Mukesh, "our land is a treasure, and we must take care of it.

Just like we nurture our crops, we must care for the earth and all its creatures".

Page 13: Riyansh said "Yes Dad" I promise to take care of our island.

Page 14: As the sun began drawn, they gathered their harvest and walked back home, their heart full of joy.
